

Four conversations

Conversation 1.

Mrs. Taylor: Quick, Jade. If we run, we can get it!
Jade: It's stopping!
Mrs. Taylor: It looks very full. I hope we can get on.
Jade: Can we sit at the back? Please!
Mrs. Taylor: Careful, Jade. Hold my hand. Excuse me, is this the 25?
Driver: That's right. Stand clear of the door, please.
Jade: Come on, Mum, let's sit at the back.
Driver: Sorry, love, all full there.

Conversation 2.

Lisa: Can you see what's happening?
Ben: Nothing. There are too many people. Wait, I can ask this man in front of me. Um, excuse me, please. Can you tell us what is happening?
Man: A man is riding a bicycle and eating fire.
Lisa: Eating fire? Wow!
Man: Would you like to stand over here? I'm leaving.
Lisa: Hey, yes please!
Man: No problem.
Lisa: Oh! Now it's all over. The man is coming here.
Ben: He wants money. Quick, let's go, Lisa.

Conversation 3.

Man: Evenin' Standard! Evenin' Standard! Read all about it! Read all about it!
Woman: Excuse me, what time is it, please?
Man: Yeah, it's twenty past six. Evenin' Standard! Evening ...
Woman: Sorry, just another question. Is there a souvenir shop near here?
Man: Right behind you, love.
Woman: Oh, it was there all the time! Thank you so much.
Man: No problem. Evenin' Standard! Evening Sta ...
Woman: Er, excuse me ...
Man: Eh-yeah?
Woman: I'd like an Evening Standard, please. How much is it?
Man: Sixty pence, madam.
Woman: Oh, dear. All my British money is gone. Do you take euros, maybe? Or credit cards?

Conversation 4.

(Monster: Ha, ha, ha. Prepare for your death.)
Sam: Hey, Terry. Are you OK? Your face is a funny colour.
Terry: No, I'm not OK. Let's get out of here, Sam.
Sam: Don't tell me you're scared, Terry. These aren't real people.
Terry: Of course I'm not scared! I just ate too many sweets before we came.
